Raining Berries is Landing Across the Pond

The UK and Ireland are about to get sweeter!

Tampa, FL - Raining Berries to bring its premium açai bowls, fair trade coffee, and fresh smoothies to a new international market.

Through an agreement with Groeglobal's Sean Goldsmith and Dan Allen, the Raining Berries franchise opportunity is set to hit a new audience in the United Kingdom and Ireland.

Our commitments to sustainability, ethically sourced ingredients, and authenticity have never proven stronger. As a company, we know that a cup of coffee has the potential to forge relationships and bring opportunity. When our Founder and CEO Bimal Bhojani started this project in 2018, it was his dream to spread that philosophy across the world. We're overjoyed to announce this exciting partnership that will see our brand reach a new, international audience. It has been a delight building relationships with Mr. Goldsmith and Mr. Allen over the last several months, and we know that Raining Berries and its mission will continue to bring joy and success to more people.

With the infrastructure and interest to become a national player in the industry, Raining Berries is thrilled to get started and make its mark with Groeglobal. A brand that's set apart by its modernity, versatility, and social media driven concept, Raining Berries is unlike anything that already exists in the UK and Ireland markets. Our connection to our customer base, socially conscious efforts, and premium products make our brand an undeniable force.

As we spread our philosophy of Real People, Real Coffee, Real Life, across the world, we would like to extend our gratitude to every member of our team and community that has helped us reach this point in our journey. We wouldn't be here without you.
